

Study Days for Our Team

Behind the scenes, we are constantly working on the quality of our education and the development of our students. To keep strengthening our team, two important study days are scheduled in the near future. In this message, you can read what this means practically for your child and what we will be focusing on during these days.

Friday, October 9: STAIJ Study Day – Digital Literacy

This coming Friday, our entire team will participate in the foundation-wide study day organized by STAIJ.

- What does this mean for you? All STAIJ schools are closed on this day. This means all students have the day off.
- What will we be working on? Our main theme for this school year is Digital Literacy. The world around us is rapidly digitizing, and we believe it is essential to prepare our students well for this. During this study day, we will dive deeper into topics such as media literacy, basic ICT skills, and information processing.
- Want to learn more? Would you like to read more about how STAIJ shapes this theme? Feel free to take a look at the STAIJ website.

Monday, October 19: Study Day – Appropriate Education, SEL & Citizenship

Right after the autumn break, on Monday, October 19, our team has a study day at our own school.

- What does this mean for you? On Monday, October 19, all students are also free.
- What will we be working on? This day focuses on Appropriate Education (Passend Onderwijs). Every child is unique and learns at their own pace and in their own way. Teachers will use this day to write targeted plans for their classes so that we can differentiate optimally during lessons (providing extra support where needed and extra challenge where possible).
- SEL & Citizenship: In addition, teachers will work on preparing lessons for Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) and Citizenship. This allows us to continue building a safe, respectful, and social atmosphere in the classroom while preparing the children for their role in society.

From Tuesday, October 20, our doors will be open again and we look forward to welcoming all students back to school!

Wednesday, November 4: Coffee & Tea Moment

- Time: From 08:50 AM
- Location: In de Kuil (opposite the principal's office)
- Connecting together: We warmly invite all parents and guardians for a hot cup of coffee or tea. This is a wonderful and accessible opportunity to share experiences with one another in a relaxed atmosphere and to exchange thoughts with me (Menekse) in person. Feel free to join us—our doors are open!
